

Third Party Comments

In October 2010, the College of Nursing at the Medical University of South Carolina is participating in a voluntary, comprehensive, self-study and national accreditation process of the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) program conducted by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). The purpose of CCNE accreditation is to ensure quality and integrity of baccalaureate and graduate education programs preparing nurses. Many facets of the College will be assessed to determine the extent to which the College achieves the state mission, educational philosophy and goals/objectives. CCNE serves to assess and identify programs that engage in effective educational practices, thereby contributing to the improvement of the public's health. The on-site evaluation conducted to assess the College's compliance with CCNE standards will occur over a three-day period, specifically October 18-20, 2010.

You are invited to submit signed, written comments about the College of Nursing to CCNE by September 18, 2010. Please send all comments to the following person and address:
